Peggy Peng,

Thank you for taking the time to speak with me about your background, experience, as well as the opportunity for the Sr. Risk Analyst position at Uber.

I thoroughly enjoyed learning about the cross-functional nature of the risk team, and it was great to hear the enthusiasm and passion for the company from someone who has experience working in that team each day.

Additionally, it was refreshing being able to walk through and code during a remote interview, and I really enjoyed some of the brief discussions we had on device clustering.

I appreciate your time in considering my background for the role, and I hope we may continue to collaborate in the future.

Please let me know if you have any comments, questions, or concerns.

Thanks again,

Jason L. Seto
