Amy Chen,

Thank you so much for your guidance during this interview process.

Between you, David, Kevin, and Maria, this was easily one of the most seamless and efficient interviews I've ever had. Having a technical recruiting team that's as well coordinated as Uber made it extremely easy for me to focus on the content of my work and background as opposed to worrying about the logistic details.

During our phone calls prior, you highlighted the energy and enthusiasm that the team had towards driving (pun intended) towards a common mission, and it was fantastic hearing the same sentiment shared by virtually every within the team that I may be working with.

Lastly, working with technical recruiters at my current company I realize the extreme demands of time placed by their client teams, so it made the fact that you were able to meet with me in person all the more meaningful.

I hope we may have the opportunity to collaborate again in the future.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Jason L. Seto
